BEHIND THE SCENES:

MATT JENKINS - PRODUCER

Eventually realizing producing short movies and documentaries wasn't enough, in 2010 Matt made the leap into no-budget features with the satirical Beaches, Buns and Bikinis. Tired of hearing: "Had this been a horror movie it would have been distributed yesterday," Matt decided the next feature he would work on would be a horror/thriller movie ... and the result is The Secret of Sarah Pennington.

CHARLES STANLEY - DIRECTOR

Charles marked his Directorial debut with the release of WDC, LLC's first feature length movie Beaches, Buns, and Bikinis starring Ron Jeremy. Taking his craft as a Director to a new level, Charles worked closely with the WDC crew to help create their latest feature The Secret of Sarah Pennington. His vision and style for production is an essential element to WDC, LLC Productions.

DOUG MCABEE - JONATHAN GRAYLINE AND DIRECTOR OF VISUAL EFFECTS

Doug opened the first door into the movie industry when he was asked to design several different movie posters and DVD packages for Jenkins' films and documentaries. This relationship would lead him to his first lead role and Art Direction in the full length feature, Beaches, Buns and Bikinis. Starving for even more out of his design carrier, Doug took the next step and applied his new knowledge of editing, post production effects and motion graphics to The Secret of Sarah Pennington, where he also has a large acting role.
